EXPLANATION OF H. F. 184

The present law allows the highway commission to issue a permit for the transporting over highways of vehicles that do not conform to the requirements as set by law. These permits, if granted, will not permit the moving of these vehicles over 25 miles. Since the granting of these permits is at the discretion of the highway commission, it has been found that the 25 mile limitation is not satisfactory and the amendment striking out the 25 mile limitation should be granted.
